Judge a puppet by its size, will you? Make up your own stories about the Jedi Master’s adventures with this fun Yoda puppet. It’s up to you which version you want to make—Prequel Trilogy Yoda, Clone Wars Yoda, or Original Trilogy Yoda.

WHAT YOU NEED

- Yoda body pattern
- Yoda robe pattern
- Scissors
- Green, brown, red, and tan or gray felt squares
- Straight pins
- Craft stick
- Googly eyes
- Glue

1. Cut out the Yoda body pattern on the next page and secure to the piece of green felt with straight pins. Then cut the felt following the pattern.

2. Cut out the Yoda robe pattern on the next page and secure to the piece of brown felt with straight pins. Then cut the felt following the pattern.

3. Now you need to make Yoda’s tunic. Cut out a piece of tan or gray felt a little larger than the collar opening of the robe. Glue this to the back of the robe.

4. Glue the robe and tunic to Yoda’s body.

5. Turn Yoda over and glue the craft stick to his back. Leave part of the stick exposed on the bottom so you have a handle for the puppet.

6. Finally, cut a small green square from the scrap felt for the nose and a small red triangle for the mouth. Glue these to Yoda’s head along with the googly eyes to make his face!
There are two sets of patterns so you can share.
BITH BAND
SPOON PUPPETS

The Mos Eisley Cantina may not be the safest hangout, but Figrin D’an and his Bith band—the Modal Nodes—sure make it hoppin’!

WHAT YOU NEED

- Black beads
- Strong glue
- Wooden spoon
- Light beige, black, and gray pieces of felt
- Scissors
- Pipe cleaners
- Self-adhesive nylon fastening tape such as Velcro

1. Glue two black eye beads halfway between the tip of the spoon and where the handle meets the base.

2. Cut a tiny circle of black felt and glue it below the buttons for the mouth. Cut thin C shapes in the beige felt and glue on the face for the Bith’s respiratory folds.

3. Wrap a pipe cleaner around the spoon handle so that your puppet looks like it has two arms.

4. Fold the black felt in half and cut out a long-sleeved shirt shape. Glue the front and back on the spoon handle with the pipe cleaner arms in between the shirt’s sleeves. If you want to make the shirt extra-secure after you glue it in place, you can sew it as well.

5. Fold the beige felt in half and cut out two sets of hands with long fingers. Glue the fronts and backs of the hands to the ends of the pipe cleaners.

6. Using colored felt, make some instruments. They can be ones you recognize from this planet—or make up your own weird instruments! Stick nylon fastening tape such as Velcro on one side of the instrument and another piece on the hand of your puppet. Make four more puppets to complete the Modal Nodes band!
In ancient times, Jedi Knights built their own lightsabers. Ask an adult to help you build your own lightsaber.

1. Cut a 3-foot piece of foam pipe insulation.

2. Put duct tape on the handle, alternating black and gray with various widths.

3. Use colored duct tape to complete the “light” part.

4. Place small stickers on the handle as buttons, or draw them on with a marker.
